

LISSADELL
IRELAND

Lissadell is a state of being as much as it is a mark of distinction. A mood and an experience that travels within us. All at the same time, the desire to feel a lightness of touch and the warmth of pleasure. It is the sumptuous textures and the softness of our towels, bathrobes and bed linens that help to unlock the door to another world. Bringing the sensual and the spiritual to the theatre of luxury hotels, Lissadell is about indulgent materials and master craftsmanship. Most of all it is about luxury.

Imaginative, experienced and highly skilled, we have been supplying the world's greatest hotels with specialist towels, robes and linen for over 40 years.

We are at our best when our relationships are based on knowledge, mutual understanding and impeccable quality. This is why we like to work in partnership to develop bespoke weaves and unique designs.

Who can deny the frisson of anticipation of being transported to another world? The promise of a place where dreams are realised and memories created. Just as every guest takes away something unique from each experience, we understand that every hotel has its own essence; a personality that permeates through every detail.

The Complete Spa Range from Lissadell will only enhance those feelings of tranquility and relaxation. Choose from our Diamond and Waffle Piqués or our uniquely developed Jacquard Spa Terry that includes invigorating massage textures, providing sensuality and comfort from head to toe.

Sinking into the opulent softness of our pure Egyptian cotton sheets is one of life's innocent pleasures.

Longer yarns to optimise bodyfeel and texture guarantee a fabulous night sleep for the guest and strength and durability for the hotel.
